

<http://www.EnglishClass.com.tw>

Studio Classroom

May 2010

Unit 19 – Architecture – The importance of designing buildings well Pg38

1. What do architects guide buildings through?
  - a) Through design and planning.
  - b) Through construction to completion.
  - c) Through the development phase.
  - d) Through assembly.

2. Why do architects communicate with clients?
  - a) To design the most effective building possible.
  - b) To better understand their budget.
  - c) To develop a concept for a design.
  - d) To tell them which designs would work best.

3. Who is hired to build the building?
  - a) An architect.
  - b) A client.
  - c) A building planner.
  - d) A contractor.

4. Why did Pan become an architect?
  - a) Because he liked artistic and logical thinking.
  - b) Because he appreciates quality designs.
  - c) Because he wants to make lots of money.
  - d) Because he has a good eye for construction.

5. Which factors do architects need to consider?
  - a) Financial factors.
  - b) Social factors.
  - c) Cultural factors.
  - d) Both b & c.